To the lucky individuals thinking of housing Austin Pranger,

I have personally known Austin for 2 years now and my life has significantly improved upon meeting this man. We have been friends, I have hired him for his incredible website design services, he has been a client of mine for coaching and I have also hired him now as a business partner.

As you can see with our intricate dynamics and capacities of working together, I find myself quite a credible source of reference for who he is as a human being.

Austin is one of the most genuine, kind, intelligent and purposeful individuals I have ever met. He has a passion for dance, self-improvement and helping the world become a better place. He is very communicative, tidy and a perfect asset to a place of residence. He loves minimalism, reorganizing his space and making sure his energy feels clean in his space.

He pays all of his bills on-time and is a person of utmost integrity. Even though he is a dear friend that works for me, I have never had to ask him to take his job more seriously and he always shocks me with how he honors my time and showing up, always over-delivering.

I understand that this all sounds like a total exaggeration of a great writer so that Austin can secure the space AND I promise you, these words are true as hell and to try to prove it I'll share the areas I see he can and will eventually grow in.

The area's Austin is growing in are: understanding his value and being able to charge people and step into his power as an entrepreneur, over-giving himself and not putting his own needs first (although I've seen a huge improvement over the past 6 months), and he gets to continue to work on his sleep habits because he likes to stay up late. :)

Lastly, who the hell am I?

I am a life-coach, I create online transformational events and in person transformational events on Kaua'i and Austin is the backbone to my company.

He is doing massive things to impact the world and if you guys let him into this amazing space he just might be able to squeeze you into our incredible community of unicorns and rainbows if you are lucky. ;)

In closing, I'm so excited that you will be having Austin in your space! He has been dreaming of this for months and I can't wait to celebrate with him!!!

Have an incredible day <3
